

U.F.O.'s LAUNCHED IN RIVER

Launching site at the bridge pier with officials watching bottles moving out into the fast-flowing current.

UNIQUE CENTENNIAL PROJECT

Project to Publicize Town Along River

Citizens of Drayton Valley, together with official dignitaries, turned out at the concrete pier near the North Saskatchewan River Bridge on the evening of June 20th to participate in the launching of the first platoon of one hundred D.V.U.F.O.'s (Drayton Valley Unidentified Floating Objects), destined for communities along the river route to Lake Winnipeg and Hudson's Bay.

This unique centennial project originated by a group of Drayton Valley citizens and sponsored by the Drayton Valley Centennial Committee, was organized in order to extend best wishes from the Town of Drayton Valley to communities along the river route.

Harry Zolmer, representing the Town of Drayton Valley, launched the first D.V.U.F.O. and was followed by Bud Salloum for the Alberta Centennial Committee, Jack Bright representing the Chamber of Commerce and Centennial Queen Sherrill Timmins and Princesses Cheryl Lee and Diane Frescher. They were followed by representatives of the Centennial Committee and other organizations who splashed the U.F.O.'s into the wildly-rushing current off the end of the concrete pier.

The Evansburg-Drayton Valley Band was in attendance and presented a number of selections during the ceremony and members of the Drayton Valley Air Cadet Squadron provided a military guard at the end of the pier.

A good-sized crowd was on hand to watch the launching ceremony which should help celebrate Centennial Year and publicize Drayton Valley along the river route.

The committee is also curious to determine just how far the bottles will float and is offering a prize for the one found farthest from Drayton Valley.

All newspapers, radio stations and TV stations along the route are being alerted to help get information to finders and then back to Drayton Valley. People finding the D.V.U.F.O.'s are asked to contact their local newspaper with the information and return the form inside the bottle to the committee in Drayton Valley. Each D.V.U.F.O. is topped by a centennial flag and has a year painted on it, representing each of the years between 1867 and 1967. Anyone finding a D.V.U.F.O. is asked to look inside for a letter explaining how he or she may collect valuable rewards. Closing date is December 31, 1967 and the contest is open to adults only.

In addition to prizes for each letter returned, the Drayton Valley Centennial Committee is offering special prizes for DVUFO's marked '1867' and '1967' and a grand prize for the DVUFO found farthest away from Drayton Valley."

EXECUTIVE MEETING

A special meeting of the executive of the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce will be held at 7:30 a.m. on Thursday, June 22nd in the Cardium Room in the Drayton Valley Hotel.

BIKE CLUB MEETING

Of special note to the Drayton Valley Motorcycle Club members is the meeting to be held on Thursday, June 22nd at 7 p.m. in the Dowell Shop. All members are asked to attend this meeting.

Harry Zolmer, representing the Town of Drayton Valley, launches the first of the D.V.U.F.O.'s

Committee to Approach Minister

Annexation proposals made recently by the Municipal District of Stony Plain and the County of Leduc, both of which have indicated a desire to take over portions of L.I.D.'s 77 and 78, have created considerable interest in the Drayton Valley area.

Although not directly involved, the executive of the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce discussed the subject at length at a breakfast meeting in the Cardium Room last Thursday.

Maurice McCullagh, Rocky Rapids district farmer, was present at the meeting and agreed to be a member of a committee composed of himself, Mayor Howard Pickup representing the Town of Drayton Valley, and Roy Burrows vice-president of the Chamber, to approach Hon. A.J. Hooke, Minister of Municipal Affairs regarding the annexation proposals. One other farm representative was to be approached by Mr. McCullagh.

The committee will attempt to determine the L.I.D.'s status in the proposals and what other alternatives are available to them if residents are not in favor of joining either of the municipalities seeking annexation.

Plan More Caravan Entertainment

Planning for the visit to Drayton Valley of the Confederation Caravan on July 2, 3 and 4 is going ahead steadily and as added attractions, three contests to be held during the visit were announced by the Caravan Committee this week.

Entries are now being sought for an old time fiddling contest, a go-go contest, and a talent contest. Anyone interested is asked to contact Jack Bright at 542-3673 or Jack McLean at 542-3073.

More entries are still sought for the stage show entertainment to be held on the Caravan stage and anyone who might have anything to offer in this regard is asked to contact either of the two men.

Dance Review On June 29th

A Dance Review will be held on Thursday, June 29th at 8 o'clock in St. Anthony's School auditorium with local and Edmonton performers displaying ballet, tap, ballroom, highland, modern jazz, ballet dancing and acrobatics.

Classes for young misses from the age of three to young adults were started last November under the direction of Gloria Blair of the Gloria Blair School of Dancing, Edmonton. Approximately 35 pupils enrolled for ballet, tap and ballroom with a modern jazz ballet class commencing in January.

The group have taken a keen interest in their dancing and hope all parents and friends will come and see their review.

Buck Lake Stampede on Wed., July 12

Rodeo and Gymkhana events and horse races will start after the parade and the day will end with a dance in the evening.

Rodeo events include saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, men's steer riding, calf roping and wild cow milking.

Western fans should keep Wednesday, July 12th open for the always-popular Buck Lake Stampede.

Mother and Daughter Banquet Held Thursday

The Brownies, Guides and Rangers annual mother and daughter banquet was held on Thursday, June 15th in the Elks Hall with about 234 present.

Mistress of ceremonies for the evening was Mrs. Bea Wickens who kept the evening program running smoothly. An Alberta Rose corsage was placed at every mother's and leaders place. These were made by Mrs. Wickens, to whom we extend our thanks.

A delicious supper, provided by the mothers was enjoyed by all.

We are again saying goodbye to some of our leaders and will be needing new ones this fall.

The leaders were introduced and each gave a report on the Achievements of the girls in their packs and companies. Drayton Valley can be proud of these young ladies.

Gwen Simpson president of the local association presented Centennial spoons to all the leaders and past executive--a little token of thanks for all their work.

She also presented World Pins to the two girls who have achieved their first class in Guiding. These girls, Nina Schurman and Joanne Chenery, worked very hard to complete their first class.

The Rangers entertained with some campfire songs.

Later a film on the Life of Lord Baden Powell, founder of Scouts and Guides was shown.

The evening ended by the singing of Taps by the Rangers, Guides and Brownies.

We would like to thank the ladies from the C.W.L. who helped at the banquet. Also Pembina Pipe Line for the use of their projector, screen and chairs.

BY MRS EDITH DEBY

Our deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. H. Janzen whose father, Mr. James Henry Coates, of Richmond, B.C. passed away last Tuesday. Mr. Coates was born in Manitoba and farmed in both Saskatchewan and Alberta before moving to B.C.

Mrs. Marion Kendrick, of Edmonton, was in town to visit her son and his family on the weekend.

At the Art Club Raffle on Saturday Mrs. St. Louis, Mrs. Sware and Mrs. Hawryluk were the lucky winners of the three lovely oil paintings donated by Mrs. Eckert, Mrs. Hoyland and Mrs. Dion. Funds raised from the sale of raffle tickets and the bake sale will pay club expenses for the following year. Club members plan to donate paintings for the new wing of the hospital and also for the enjoyment of mental patients in Alberta Hospitals.

Hearty good wishes for future happiness go to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horvath, nee Miss Lorena Lilje.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyn Hall left for Toronto early in the month to attend Convocation ceremonies at Queen's University where Mr. Hall received his doctorate for his thesis on Alberta history. At present Dr. Hall is Supervisor of School Administration for the Department of Education. I know I speak for all your Drayton Valley friends when I say "Congratulations, Dr. Hall."

The Muellers are planning to show Mrs. Polcyn as much of Canada as possible and are including a trip to the Okanagan during her stay.

Helmer Ramstad will leave soon to see his brother, Gunnar, in Dickinson, North Dakota. Eric Edholm will care for Mr. Ramstad's store in his absence. Mr. Edholm has had considerable experience in the store business. During the years he ran a grocery business he was justly famous for his reasonable prices and we know he will bring the same policies to his management of Mr. Ramstad's store.

When Barry Williams arrived home from school one afternoon recently he heard a great commotion in the egg factory. Snatching up a gun he hastened out and surprised a large mink in the act of killing his third hen. Barry put an end to the proceedings forthwith but the mink really had the last word for his pelt was past prime and worthless.

Interest Growing

The annexation proposals announced recently by Stony Plain Municipal District and the County of Leduc with plans involving the take-over of L.I.D. 77 and parts of 78 appear to be attracting increasing interest in the area. Although not to be considered as a consensus of opinion, many of those to whom this writer has spoken favor the establishment of a new municipal district in the area rather than joining the established ones.

Whether this is possible will await the meeting of a local committee with Municipal Affairs Minister Hon. A.J. Hooke. The area appears to have the necessary assessment for self-government but might be lacking in size and population.

It is unlikely, too, that this area will be allowed to remain an L.I.D. indefinitely. It seems almost certain that some change is going to come as a result of the annexation proposals.

If area residents express a desire for the creation of a new municipality this should certainly be taken into account. If this is not indicated the suggestion of Stony Plain is worth consideration. The Stony Plain council suggests co-terminous boundaries for school division, county and Provincial electoral constituency.

What happens in regard to taxes and so forth we have no idea. This must await public meetings with provincial government and Stony Plain Municipal officials to be held in the area soon.

An Interesting Proposal

(From The Leduc Representative)

The possibility of the County of Leduc extending its borders to the west and southwest is intriguing and with but a cursory perusal of the proposal appears to be timely.

With the likelihood of diminishing oilfield and pipeline assessments facing the County in the coming years, the new territory would provide a good deal of revenue in the County coffers. Pipeline tax revenue in the proposed area for annexation already exceeds the total the County presently receives. The new assessment would do much to help stabilize and ensure a steady source of tax dollars for many years to come for the County of Leduc.

Then too, the suggestion that annexation of the area would help in solving the school centralization problem makes a certain amount of sense. Pupils in the far-western part of the present County could much more easily be bussed to Drayton Valley in some cases than to present schools within the County.

If the annexation should go through--and there is a strong likelihood of opposition from the Municipal District of Stony Plain which has indicated it has similar plans--it will not be without problems. The proposed area which is about one-quarter the size of the present County will expect services which the County would be obligated to supply. The area is relatively sparsely populated outside the centre of Drayton Valley which means that there would be little assessment, aside from the pipelines, to pay for these services.

We have urged before that there is an ever-increasing necessity for the County to seek alternate sources of revenue for the decreasing oil revenues within the County of Leduc. It would appear that the first move is being made. It is hoped that a concentrated effort will be made as well to further develop the potential within the present County by promoting industrial growth.

Entwistle News

Mrs. E. Oliver, Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Koehn and family have returned from their holiday to New York. While there they spent a few days at Expo.

The next Elks Whist Drive will be held on June 24th at 8:30 in the Elks Hall.

Norman Murray celebrated his 8th birthday on June 7th with a party and some of his friends.

Donnie Hofmann, David and Gordon Oliver spent the long weekend at Jasper, and a good time was reported by the three of them.

The Entwistle Junior and Senior Fire Boys were in Edmonton on June 17th for general inspection of the equipment of No. 2, Fire Hall. Captain Bell conducted the tour and answered all the questions that were asked. The Entwistle Fire Department would like to thank Fire Chief Graham and Captain Bell for taking the time that was spent with us. Seventeen boys and men went by bus to enlarge their knowledge of fire equipment.

In the near future the Entwistle firemen will attend the First Aid course put on by the Department of Highways at Evansburg.

By permission of the Entwistle Council the Fire Department will purchase 5 new coats and 4 pairs of rubber boots to add to the present equipment.

Band members are shown above at a recent In-Crowd Teen Dance. The club plans another dance in the Elementary School on Friday, June 30th featuring "The Warped Factor".

Having sold our business, the Mcleods Store in Drayton Valley, we wish to take this opportunity of extending our sincere thanks to the residents of this area of West Central Alberta.

Your support contributed to a very successful operation here and helped us to become first in volume of sales in dealer operated stores in Canada in 1965 and second in 1966.

Again, many thanks for your help that made our stay in Drayton Valley for the past five years a very pleasant experience in our lives.

Early Days Logging On The North Saskatchewan

Logging was a major industry in this area for many years and these photos, loaned to The Western Review by Mrs. Florence Johnston of Berrymoor, show some of the activities by the Fraser Lumber Company.

Another logging scene at the Berrymoor site.

An interesting and necessary piece of equipment used during the log drive was the "wanigan" shown above with the cook and his helper peeling potatoes for supper. The wanigan, built on a raft, followed the logs downstream and carried the food and equipment needed for the log drive.

Letters to the Editor

Rocky Rapids, Alta.
June 15, 1967.

Editor,
The Western Review.
Sir:

After due consideration of your editorial comments in the last two issues; on the annexation of L.I.D. 77 and 78 by Stony Plain Municipal District and the County of Leduc, I have reached the conclusion that the residents of 77 and 78 should raise strenuous objections to this. We should try to maintain our status quo, as 77 and 78 are debt free. I feel that the people of these two L.I.D.'s should not be asked to help pay the debts of Stony Plain Municipal District and the county of Leduc. Not only the above objection, but the fact that property taxes are sure to rise. The property taxes are high enough as it is.

Yours truly,
J. Cameron.

June 16, 1967.

The Editor,
The Western Review
Drayton Valley, Alta.

Dear Sir:

As chairman of the Publicity Campaign in the recent campaign to aid retarded children, I wish to thank you and the staff of The Western Review for the support your newspaper gave us during the Flowers of Hope Campaign.

What all of us working for retarded children want most of all is public acceptance and understanding of those who are mentally retarded. Only then will we be getting the manpower and the contributions needed to provide the special services and research.

On behalf of the Wetaskiwin and District Association for Retarded Children, and the children and their parents in our area, may I express our appreciation for the public response to our appeal and to your newspaper for helping to make the public aware.

Sincerely,
Gladys Callaghan.

Feeding Enterprise Analysis Report

The 1965 Alberta Cattle Feeding Enterprise Analysis Report, recently released by the Economics Division of the provincial Department of Agriculture, shows that most of the enterprises studied earned a 5 per cent return on livestock, building, and equipment investment and provided favourable returns to labour and management.

Located in the brown, dark brown, thin black, and black soil zones of the province, the enterprises ranged in size from a production of 11,500 to 515,500 pounds of live weight gain per year. Annual marketings varied from a low of 25 to a high of 1,398 head.

The average enterprise showed a gross return of $20,716 which works out to $27.73 per hundred pounds of production. The average feeder was purchased at a weight of 601 pounds and a price of $19.70 per hundred weight. The average finished animal was sold at a weight of 972 pounds for a price of $21.68 per hundred weight. These prices gave the average cattle feeder a positive margin of $1.98 per hundred pounds. In addition, most operators showed a positive margin between the price of cattle on inventory at the beginning of the year and the price of cattle on inventory at the end of the year. Wide variations were observed, however, in gross returns per enterprise, in gross returns per hundred pounds of production, in the margin between purchase and sale price of livestock, and in the margin between the price of livestock on opening and closing inventories.

Total costs averaged $22.63 per hundred pounds of production. Feed accounted for 74.3 per cent of these costs, and 82 per cent of all costs were variable. Feed costs per hundred pounds of production varied more from one farm to another than any other costs. Building and equipment investments also varied tremendously among the operations studied.

In total, the average operator recorded a return of $6,079 per enterprise on investment and labour. After a 5 per cent interest charge on the livestock, labour, and equipment investment had been deducted, the return to labour and management was $4,559 per enterprise or $6.10 per hundred pounds of production.

Average gross returns per hundred pounds of production increased slightly as the size

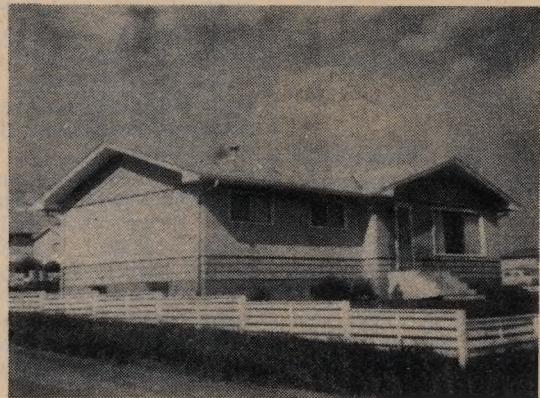

The fact that fluctuations in the market price of livestock and other production factors cause labour and management returns to change, makes farm analysis, enterprise analysis, and enterprise planning, and seasonal price variations, as well as suggestions on ways to increase gross returns and to reduce production costs, are included in the report.

Copies of the 1965 Alberta Cattle Feeding Enterprise Analysis Report can be obtained from district agriculturists and the Publications Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

This map of Moose Lake shows what different species of fish do when they are released into a lake. Tagged fish caught after their release in June 1966, show that walleye spread quickly to the far reaches, pike remained concentrated near the release point, and the few perch caught had not travelled far. The numbers caught each month are shown for the sections of the lake indicated by the dotted lines.

Moose Lake
Fish Study

In June, 1966, the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests marked 1,436 fish with yellow plastic tags and released them into Moose Lake near Bonnyville. Since that time, anglers have returned tags from 81 fish that they had caught up to March 5th, 1967. Of these, 49 were from walleye (locally called pickerel), 28 from pike and 4 from perch. This represents a return of 8.1% of the walleye, 13.7% of the pike and only .7% of the perch in less than one year. It should be pointed out that these figures represent the minimum harvest by anglers as it is estimated that at least one out of every ten tagged fish captured are not reported.

The locations of all tagged fish recaptured up to and including March 5th, 1967 have been indicated on a map of the lake.

It is interesting to note that walleye have distributed themselves throughout all parts of the lake since their date of release while pike and perch have remained fairly close to the area where they were originally released. Walleye appear to concentrate in at least three areas in the lake during the summer months. These areas are: midway along the north shore of Franchere Bay, around the area locally referred to as Pelican Point and near the pumphouse in Vezeau Bay.

On several occasions, individual anglers have captured more than one tagged fish on the same day. One angler captured three tagged pike in one day while fishing near Eastbourne Bay.

The Fish and Wildlife Division will continue the program this summer. Any angler who catches a tagged fish in this lake is urged to report it to one of the tag return stations on the lake or to any office of the Fish and Wildlife Division. Information regarding the date and location of capture are required, as is the number of the tag. The Bonnyville Chamber of Commerce is cooperating in this project and will pay each angler one dollar for each tag that is returned complete with the information requested.

Please do your part in helping to improve the management of sport fishing in Alberta by reporting the date and location of any tagged fish captured in any lake or stream in the province. Your reward will be better fishing.

Evansburg Centennial Committee Meets

A regular meeting of the Evansburg and District Centennial Committee was held in the Evansview School at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, June 14th.

As the president, Mr. Grassi was absent, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Panek.

Mr. Panek reported that the Centennial Celebrations Committee has $492.70 in the bank with special thanks to the Fire Department for their successful auction which netted $459. Mr. Evans, for whom the village of Evansburg was named, has donated $50 toward our celebrations.

Mr. Bjornstad reported that the creamery is putting a float in the parade, the Elks and Royal Purple of Entwistle, and the Evansburg Legion will be marching. Parade plans are proceeding well to date.

Mr. Fausak reported that the work on the pictorial history is proceeding well. The Grade 10 and 11 students of the High School are to be asked to help with this when they finish exams on the 20th. Wall board of some type will be required for the backing and a donation is welcome if someone has some available. Otherwise, the Committee will be asked to purchase some. Flowers are going to be made by the ladies at a cost of approximately $16 for 175 flowers. They will be in the form of wild roses.

Mrs. Weist reported that the program for the talent show is set up tentatively but are still waiting for confirmation of entries from many communities. The trophy is expected in the mail this week. It is to be 12" high with a Centennial figure and will cost $12 plus C.O.D. charges. Molly Quittam, the adjudicator for Search for Talent has agreed to be our adjudicator for the sum of $25.

Mr. Panek reported that the final shipment of flags has not come and if they are not here by the end of the week, he will get them from another source.

Mr. Corkery reported on the tentative program. A letter has been sent to our M.L.A., Mr. Jesperson asking that he officially open the Caravan. Mayors from the local towns and villages are also to be invited. An advertising agency from Calgary has contacted the committee concerning advertising our celebrations.

Ian Lundrigan reported that the tickets for the teen queen are here and are being distributed tonight and tomorrow.

There are three candidates so far. The social convenors of the Students Union are looking into the Teen Hop.

Mr. Sheridan, representative of the Gymkhana Club was present to get information on how much time the gymkhana club should plan on spending on their show and how elaborate they should make it.

It was moved that $100 worth of fire works be purchased, such as rockets, to shoot off at 11:00 p.m.

Mr. Sheridan asked if the committee has planned on having a doctor or an ambulance in attendance for the day, and has there been any provision made for insurance?

Mr. Corkery stated that the R.C.M.P. will be out in full force and our doctor's replacement will be contacted and asked to be present. Mr. Nikoloyuk will be consulted about the advisability of insurance. Any other meetings of the committee before July 1st will be left to the discretion of the celebrations committee.

Grizzly Hunting Again This Fall

Non-residents will be able to hunt Grizzly Bears in the province this fall, announced the Hon. H.A. Ruste,

Earlier this year the department proposed that no season be opened for non-residents to hunt the province's "grizzlies". However, Mr. Ruste continues, the proposed regulation will go into effect in the spring of 1968; resident hunters will not be required to hold a separate $7.50 Grizzly Bear license this year.

Non-resident alien hunting fees will be increased as previously suggested to $150 up $50 from last year.

Fattening of beef cattle in controlled-environments has advantages over open-air feedlots. This building has large removable shutters and a ventilator in the roof and can be closed to conserve heat from the animals in cold weather. Below is a view of the slotted floor under which are pits where the manure accumulates for easy, periodic removal.

LETHBRIDGE--Fattening beef cattle in controlled-environment, slotted-floor feedlots may sound far-fetched, but that is what some feeders are doing.

Dr. R. Hironaka, animal nutritionist, and V.J. Miles, economist of CDA's Research Station here, say the theory is that comfortable cattle gain faster and utilize their feed more efficiently than cattle exposed to the elements and mud. Bedding and labor costs are lower and overall cost per pound of gain also may be lower with slotted floors than with conventional feedlots.

Problems of building design, ventilation, and manure removal plagued the early innovators of the slotted-floor feedlot. But the problems are being solved and undoubtedly the numbers of this type of feedlot will increase. With the rising demand for beef, the day may come when feeding cattle in controlled-environment feedlots will be the rule rather than the exception, in the opinion of the two researchers.

Cattle in these completely enclosed feedlots are each allowed about 20 square feet of living space. They are kept at a comfortable temperature, protected from the sun, wind, and precipitation. They have a clean, dry surface on which to lie and walk. In winter, the body heat of the animals keeps the feedlot warm. Excess heat and moisture are removed by fans. Floors are built of slats about 4 inches wide and about $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches apart. No bedding is used. Manure falls through the slats into 6-foot deep pits below the floor. This aids in pollution control, which is a major problem in some areas.

Building design is of utmost importance. Sufficient air must move through the building to remove moisture effectively without causing excessive drafts. Under very cold conditions, auxiliary heat may be necessary to prevent fogging. The pits must be designed to permit manure to be removed easily. Several small pits about 30x40 feet have been found to give less trouble than single large pits.

Surveys of these controlled-environment feedlots have been conducted by the Lethbridge Research Station. The cattle were found to be clean and appeared comfortable. Ventilation was found to be a problem when temperatures fell below about 0°F . Concrete slats were superior in wearing quality to wooden slats. Average gains to 3.25 pounds per day and feed costs as low as 13 cents per pound of gain were being attained.

Controlled-environment feedlots are still considered to be experimental units. Progress is measured in terms of practical problems solved.

More research is required to determine their economic merit, especially under Canadian conditions. Investment per animal is high but savings in labor, feed, and bedding, coupled with rapid gains and rapid turnover of inventory, may result in lowering the cost per pound of gain.

A project to study various aspects of protecting animals from the elements is now developing at the Lethbridge Research Station. The research team includes an economist, a nutritionist, and an engineer. Much research and the full support and co-operation of feeders, builders, suppliers, and the financial community will be needed to assess and nurture future developments.

AWARDED FELLOWSHIP

One of the Alberta Government Telephones Centennial Fellowships for this year has been awarded to Mr. Fred W. Unger of Edmonton, Alberta. The Hon. Ray Reierson presented Mr. Unger with a cheque for $5,000 for his first year of study towards a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering.

The AGT Centennial Fellowships were established to commemorate Canada's Centennial, and are open to graduates in Engineering, Physics, Mathematics or allied fields wishing to do post-graduate studies involving telecommunications

Concern Over Water Use

Pollution, authority, and conservation of Alberta's currently plentiful supplies of water were the chief items of concern in an official brief presented to the Alberta Cabinet this week by the Alberta Institute of Agrologists.

In the presentation the Agrologists recommended a long term course of action aimed at conserving Alberta's water as well as insuring its purity. The group, after lengthy study of the situation, declared that an educational program on water use along with regulatory action be instituted to combat water waste and land damage.

"The whole question of water pollution needs careful and broad consideration," the brief states, while the matter of authority including legal and judicial ramifications of water, would become more clearly defined under an established Provincial body. The latter could be a Co-ordinating Board, a Water Commission or a Department of Water.

The importance of water as a natural resource in the Province, initiated the request by the Alberta Cabinet for the study and the brief. The conservation aspect of the study covered Alberta's geographic vulnerability to any mammoth water-shed transfer schemes in the future.

With the Province currently having the largest irrigated acreage area in Canada, depriving water through such transfers would have detrimental effects while on the other hand an increase in water supply could place more land under irrigation. A complete inventory of all lands suitable for irrigation was recommended in the brief.

Farewell Party For Burki's

A social evening for Mr. and Mrs. Dan Burki and family was held recently in the Moon Lake Hall when approximately 100 friends and neighbors gathered to bid farewell to this well-known family.

Dan and Debbie were presented with lawn chairs and a lovely lunch was served by the ladies at the close of the evening. The Burki's will be making their new home in the Sangudo area and the community extends the best of luck to them on their new ranch there.

Paintings Raffled

On Saturday afternoon the Drayton Valley Art Club held a successful bake sale. Late in the day the three lovely paintings were given away with Mayor Pickup, Mr. Retallack, and young Miss Shelley Makarowski picking the numbers. First prize was won by Molly St. Louis, 2nd by Mrs. Anne Sware and 3rd by Mrs. J. Hawryluk.

The club wish to thank all who helped make the day a success and to the people who so kindly made the draw.
